

“WHO’S DOING WHAT?”

Asa Blalock, Chevron writes: living in a retirement home.

Lou Bauman, Chevron writes: 83 and enjoying life in Idaho; 10 great grandchildren. Miss the 19cent per gallon gasoline price when I pumped fuel in 1959!

Bruce Nilson, Chevron writes: still living on my farm in Nebraska. Retired in July 1992.

Bernard Neugebauer, Texaco writes: Texaco was a great company and I miss many of my good friends. All I can say is enjoy your years they GO FAST!

Forrest Stine, Gulf writes: supporting the Foundation of First Health; exercising and working with the stock market.

David Wanninger, Texaco writes: still working full time at my own private engineering firm in Evansville, IN.
